HAWAIIANS AS POLITICIANS.

"I want to tell you that there is no more astute politician in any country than the native Hawaiian," said Mr.
Godfrey Brown, a leading citizen of Honolulu, to a Post reporter at the Arlington. "Some years ago I was secretary of the Legislature of Hawaii, and it was my duty to call the list of nobles and representatives on every vote taken in that body. Among the representatives was a shrewd old fellow whose method was always to cast his vote on the winning side. He made capital out of this when he went home by pointing to his record, and telling his constituents they would do well to keep in office a legislator that never championed a losing measure. All bills that he had advocated had been enacted into law, and those which he had considered undesirable had been defeated.

"His crafty plan was in this wise: When the ayes and noes were called on the passage of a bill, his name being near the top of the list, when his name was reached, the response invariably given would be 'kaualua,' which in the English would mean undecided. After the list had been gone through it was customary to call again the names of those who had not voted. When his name was read the second time he would calmly inquire of the secretary which side had the majority, and on being informed that the ayes had it, or the reverse, he would smilingly announce, 'Al malala kauna o Kaunapali,' which has been translated as:
'There will be found the member for Kaunapali.'—Washington Post.

SMALLPOX IN FORTY-EIGHTH.

Smallpox has broken out in the 48th Regiment and yesterday four men suffering with the dread disease were removed to the smallpox camp back of the cemetery. They are John L. Thomas, Co. K; James Fleming, Co. B; Wade H. Porter, Co. B, and Lee Matthews, Co. M. Several suspicious cases were also found and the patients isolated until the nature of their ailment could be positively determined. None of the cases are regarded as serious, and as all the men in the volunteer camps have recently been vaccinated there is no fear of the disease spreading. However, in order to guard against all possibility of such a contingency the regiment was ordered to the detention camp on Angel Island. The preparations for their removal were at once begun, all the straw used in the soldiers' bedding being burned. The men were taken over to the island late in the afternoon on the tugs Sea Queen and General McDowell, taking with them only their light baggage. The 48th came from the same recruiting camp as the 31st, which was also exiled to the island detention camp and remained there until it sailed for the Philippines. S. F. Nov. 19.

NEWS OF THE TRANSPORTS.

It is probable that the 40th and 42d Regiments will also sail for the Philippines before the end of the week.
While no orders for their departure have yet been issued it has been announced that the transports Indiana and Ohio will sail on or about Wednesday, and they will be followed in a few days by the Dalny Vostok and one other, probably the Columbia, which has been rechartered. Of course these transports, when they sail, will carry troops. Acting Assistant Surgeons Edwin W. Ames, James B. Hallwood, William H. Tukey, Charles H. Searnes, Louis A. Molony and Thomas S. Lowe have been ordered to sail on the Indiana. The men of the 40th Regiment confidently expect to be ordered on board the transports by Wednesday at the latest and the 42d are ready, although somewhat shy on target practice. Should the regiments get away during the coming week the only troops left here, with the exception of the Presidio garrison and the Tennessee Regiment, will be the 48th and 49th, colored regiments. The last named was expected to arrive yesterday afternoon, but was delayed en route and will probably come in some time today.

"SELF-PRESERVATION is the first law of Nature." For this reason everyone who is ill desires to become well. Those who have impure or impoverished blood turn to Hood's Sarsaparilla; because they know it will enrich and purify their blood and give them good health. To take this medicine on the first appearance of impure blood is an important step toward self-preservation.
